Privacy Policy

The sites provide information relating to the services of EVT for prospective and current clients. In the course of your use of the Website, EVT may obtain personal information about you. This policy describes the types of personal information that may be collected about you in connection with your use of EVT's website / publicly available electronic applications:

"Cookies" are small text files that may be placed on your Web browser when you visit the electronic services or when you view advertisements placed on other websites by EVT. The information derived from cookies is used for administrative purposes to help EVT gauge the effectiveness of its advertising efforts and to improve your experience with the services used. For example, this information may help authenticate you (i.e., verify that you are who you say you are). Cookies also make it easier for you to navigate the sites by, among other things, "remembering" your identity so that you do not have to input your password multiple times as you move between pages or services. Cookies also may be used to serve advertisements when you visit websites of third parties with whom EVT may have marketing relationships. You can set your Web browser to inform you when cookies are set, or to prevent cookies from being set. However, if you decline to use cookies, you may experience reduced functionality. The sites use cookies that last indefinitely. If you do not wish to have a cookie stored in your computer, you should disable them in your browser's security options.

"Clickstream" data (e.g., information regarding which of our pages you access, the frequency of such access, and your product and service preferences) may be collected by EVT itself, or by its service providers, using cookies, web beacons, page tags, or similar tools that are set when you visit the site or when you view an advertisement that EVT has placed on another website. Clickstream data and similar information may be shared internally within EVT and used for administrative purposes; to assess the usage, value and performance of online products and services; to improve your experience with the site; and as otherwise permitted by applicable law or regulation. This information may be processed by EVT or the purposes described above, or by third parties on behalf of EVT.

When you visit the electronic services, your browser may be momentarily directed to the website of an ad server or other third party service provider. This redirection process will not be apparent to you. These third party websites automatically receive your IP address when this happens, and they may also collect information from your interaction with the website including computer and connection information, standard web log information, and ad information. Such information generally does not identify you individually.

EVT may make available on its electronic services third party applications such as content linking or sharing facilities. Information collected by providers of such applications are governed by their privacy policies. Following links to any other off-site pages or other web sites is at the user's own risk. This policy provides a general statement of the ways in which EVT gathers information from the use of its sites. In connection with specific products or services offered by EVT, you may be provided with separate privacy policies or statements. This policy may be changed from time to time without notice by EVT. The revised policy will be effective immediately upon posting to the site. If you require further information regarding this privacy policy, please contact us.
